Meet Maggie!

Maggie, a 9-year-old Cocker Spaniel mix, was surrendered to the Seattle Humane Society when her owners moved away. Maggie's health had been neglected and she was suffering from a painful eye condition. Our vet staff determined that both eyes had to be removed for her health's sake. Now Maggie is feeling much better and learning to adapt to her new lifestyle.

Resilient and a total sweetheart, Maggie would love to be part of a compassionate family. She loves other dogs and cats, belly rubs, and couch lounging. She follows voices very well and learns how to maneuver new spaces quickly. Maggie is currently receiving extra care in a loving foster home. To find out more about her, call Seattle Humane at (425) 649-7563 or email adoptions@seattlehumane.org.
