

Adoption Spotlight Raleigh

Raleigh, an 8-year-old Miniature Schnauzer mix, loves to nuzzle his human friends with his silver mustache. He's hoping to celebrate the new year in a home of his own with a special someone he can go for walks with, play tug, and show off his basic obedience skills. Raleigh has a condition called Cushing's Syndrome and he will require regular veterinary check-ups. Raleigh would happily live with a dog-savvy cat or another well-mannered dog. This special boy is waiting to meet you at the Seattle Humane Society, located at the junction of I-405 and I-90.
