REGISTRATION OPENS FOR ANIMAL ADVENTURES DAY CAMP FOR KIDS!

Learn about pets... Meet cool critters... Help shelter animals!

BELLEVUE, WA – Registration is now open for the Seattle Humane Society’s Animal Adventures Day Camp, week-long day camps for children ages five to 12-years old that nurture a sense of compassion and respect for animals and all living beings.

There are six week-long camp sessions during in July and August. Each camp session is limited to 18 campers. The cost per camper is $150. Scholarships will be awarded based on teacher recommendations and need. Go to <http://www.seattlehumane.org/day-camp2008.pdf> for a full schedule and the registration form. Registration forms can be faxed to (425) 747-2985, called in to (425) 649-7553, mailed in or dropped off at the shelter.

During Animal Adventures Day Camp, campers will investigate the world of companion animals in a fun-filled series of hands on games, experiential lessons, and guest speakers. Each day of the week, they’ll meet different critters, learn about all types of pets, and work with shelter animals to understand the importance of compassion for our animal friends.

“We want children to have a safe and entertaining experience while they learn about companion animals,” says Brenda Barnette, CEO. “This camp promises to be so much fun that it will be one of the highlights of summer for the kids who attend.”

Last year, Animal Adventures Day Camp sold out quickly, so secure your child’s spot today! Camp takes place at the Seattle Humane Society in Bellevue at 13212 SE Eastgate Way.
